

Important Disclosures about BNP Paribas Securities Corp.

This communication includes information about one or more investment advisers (each, an “IA”) and/or one or more private funds advised by the IA (each, a “Private Fund”) in the context of BNP Paribas Securities Corp. (“BD”) providing capital introduction services to the IA (the “Cap Intro Information”), which may also be performed by one or more of BD’s affiliates. While BD is not making any solicitation or recommendation, express or implied, as to the suitability or otherwise of any investment with an IA or Private Fund, this disclosure is intended to help the IA satisfy any obligations it believes it may have with respect to this communication under Rule 206(4)-1 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended (known as the “Marketing Rule”). The Cap Intro Information is provided to you as a participant in the BD capital introduction program, and not as part of any other relationship(s), including any advisory relationship(s), you may have with BD and/or its affiliates.

Please read these important summary disclosures about the BD relating to the Cap Intro Information:

1. BD provides its capital introduction services to the IA as an ancillary service provided to clients within the Prime Services business unit. BD acting through its capital introduction team is not a client of the IA nor is it invested in the IA or any of its Private Funds, although employees of the capital introduction team in their personal capacities may have invested in other products advised by the IA. However, BD may invest in the IA, the Private Funds or other clients of the IA or advise its clients to invest in any of the foregoing through other business units and/or affiliates.
2. BD does not charge the IA a separate fee for its capital introduction services nor does it obligate the IA to provide any other form of consideration for these services. However, BD and/or its affiliates have, or expect to develop, one or more business relationships with the IA and/or its fund clients, including acting as prime broker, custodian, broker, dealer or clearing agent. As part of such relationship(s), BD and/or its affiliates earns or expects to earn direct and indirect cash and non-cash compensation in the form of fees, commissions, payments for order flow, increased transactions or balances, interest and other financing charges, as well as other increased business or revenues.
3. BD may have a conflict of interest relating to its communication of the Cap Intro Information to you (and such conflicts are managed by the BD or its affiliates through its existing policies and procedures reasonably designed to manage business conflicts) because:
 - (a) any cash and non-cash compensation and/or increased business the BD and/or its affiliates earns or expects to earn from the IA and/or its fund clients (in the context of transactions entered into between the BD or any of its affiliates and the IA and/or its fund clients not relating to the Cap Intro Information) could be a factor in BD determining to provide such Cap Intro Information to you; and/or
 - (b) through its relationship with the IA or its Private Fund, BD and/or its affiliates may possess information about the IA or its Private Funds that BD may not disclose to you, regardless of whether such information is material to a potential investing decision and/or is favorable or unfavorable.
